“I like counting
jellybeans with Millie.”

Katie, age 4

Experts agree.

Edmark “kidware” offers solid computer learning, plus delightful computer play, for little experts ages 2 to 8.

Parents and teachers have relied on Edmark early learning materials for over 20 years, because no one knows better than Edmark that kids learn best when they're having fun.

The period before your child begins to read is a crucial learning time — but there's a world of difference between instructive computer play and repetitive video games. Edmark's award-winning software is exactly what parents like you are looking for: a cheery, flexible, always-successful computer environment where your child can play and learn for hours, independently. And with a great big smile.

KidDesk is an easy, safe and entertaining menu program that protects your hard disk while letting children use the computer on their own. Winner of 5 major awards, including Child's Best Software, 1993. (Windows, MS-DOS and Mac)

Millie's Math House uses bright colors and lively sounds to teach pre-math skills like counting, naming shapes, and recognizing sizes. Winner of 8 major awards, including Parents' Choice in Software, 1993. (MS-DOS and Mac)

In Bailey's Book House, kids create stories, complete rhymes, and get excited about learning the alphabet. Finalist for COMPUTE Choice Award, 1993. (MS-DOS and Mac)
